IV. Update on UCC / Transition Period

IV-A. – Report from Hurst Brooks Espinosa on Transition/Next Steps Efforts

HBE provided an update on the individual UCC next steps conversations with Supervisors, noting they have also been meeting with various stakeholders and key county staff. HBE will be compiling the information they gather and providing the Board a written report at the next board meeting. They noted next month is the in-person UCC Board meeting, held in conjunction with the CSAC Conference, and urged Supervisors to be in attendance for this important discussion.

V. Legislative Update

V-A Mental Health Issues and Funding

HBE’s Kelly Brooks provided a memo with an overview and background on mental health issues and funding. She noted that in recent weeks there have been several informational hearings discussing mental health issues and counties’ role in delivering mental health services. Concerns have been raised by the Legislature on how counties are delivering mental health services and how counties are spending MHSA. Mayor Darrell Steinberg – in his role as author of the MHSA and founder of the Steinberg Institute – has expressed his concerns about the structure of the MHSA, saying there is very little outcome-based work to share with the public as to how MHSA funds are helping people. He also noted that focusing more on prevention and early intervention would improve the Act. HBE expressed the importance to have the discussion on messaging and being able to tell the counties’ story.

HBE suggested reaching out to each county to get an update on what the MHSA reserves are, and also asked the Board how much MHSA is used as match to draw down federal funds. HBE is coordinating with CSAC, as they have previously requested this information.

Perspectives from the Steinberg Institute -- Adrienne Shilton, the Government Affairs Director from the Steinberg Institute, joined the call to discuss MHSA-related legislation and the Insititute’s legislative priorities for 2019. Adrienne noted that this is a tipping point in California for mental health and highlighted the need to be strategic in care provision, especially in the area of prevention. She mentioned several reasons to be optimistic:

- Governor Newsom’s budget includes strategic investments in prevention: $25 million for early psychosis, $50 million for the behavioral health workforce; $45 million for Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACES) screening; $5.3 million for University of California for student mental health.

- Governor Newsom will be appointing a mental health advisor who will report directly to the Governor.
- A legislative package that seeks to increase access to mental health care, which aligns with county interests:
  - SB 10 (Beall): Peer certification for mental health and substance use disorder, including statewide standards for training programs.
  - SB 66 (Atkins): Removing the regulatory barrier for federally qualified health centers and rural health centers from being reimbursed for two visits, a physical and mental health visit on the same day).

Adrienne noted that the number one call they get from the community is how to receive care in the moment of crisis. In the longer term, the Steinberg Institute will be focused on how to create a better system to assist individuals in a time crisis, including warm handoffs.

Board members expressed their concerns about the limited use of MHSA and the need to have more flexibility, giving an example of how MHSA funds cannot be used in locked facilities. During a jail stay may be a good opportunity to engage an individual in mental health treatment, which could help with recidivism reduction.

The question was raised on how have counties participated with the Steinberg Institute in the past, and the response was primarily working with CSAC, health and human services advocates, CBHDA Directors, as well as direct relationships with counties and county lobbyists.

V-B Housing and Homelessness Issue and Funding

HBE's Jean Hurst reviewed a memo and gave an overview on the state budget activities associated with housing and homelessness. Under the Homeless Aid for Planning and Shelter Program there is a proposal for $300 million for regional planning, $200 million for continuum of care and $100 million to the most populous cities in the state. Also, in the proposal is $250 million to help cities and counties reach short-term housing production goals, and $500 million incentives to reach certain planning milestones. A stakeholder process is being proposed to revamp the RHNA process and methodology through December 2022.

The LAO has raised concerns about this proposal regarding the one-time general fund dollars for new programs and purposes, encouraging the Legislature to think of alternative uses of the funding that still incentivizes cities and counties, but also spending the monies to further advance homelessness and affordable housing goals.

A press conference took place with the Governor and Big City Mayors. The Mayors – led by Sacramento Mayor Darrell Steinberg – requested an additional investment in their efforts to address homelessness. They expressed their interest in working with the Governor and focusing some funding on prevention and intervention.

CSAC sent a letter to the Governor requesting that all homeless funding be directed to counties for purposes of providing homeless services. UCC has also communicated with the Legislature and Administration on funding and policy issues, and has requested to have urban county representation on the homeless council. No responses have been given thus far and HBE noted that there is a lot more work to be done to get to resolution on the housing and homelessness issue.

The Board had a lively discussion on this item and requested that HBE solicit a meeting with the Governor. The Board also noted that large counties have to have a seat at the table to be able to give the urban county perspective. HBE noted that they have been in contact with the Governor's staff and will work toward a meeting with the Governor.

The Board reported that flexibility will be helpful to bring cities and stakeholders to the table. The Board asked HBE to report back on the following:

- Work to secure a face to face meeting with the Governor
- Provide broader flexibility in a housing/homelessness proposal
- Report on the outcomes from the CSAC UCC Housing and Homelessness Task Force from last year.

VI. State Budget Update

HBE reported that the Legislature is working through the subcommittee process and trailer bill language is still being developed for certain proposals.

IHSS MOE – HBE noted that the United Domestic Workers (UDW) has proposed conditioning the Governor’s proposed IHSS MOE annual increase of 4% on a successful execution of a collective bargaining agreement with a wage above the state’s minimum wage. Counties without an executed agreement or with wages at minimum wage would be subject to the existing 7% inflator. One board member noted they would love to be able to bargain, but 7% is a concern.
